

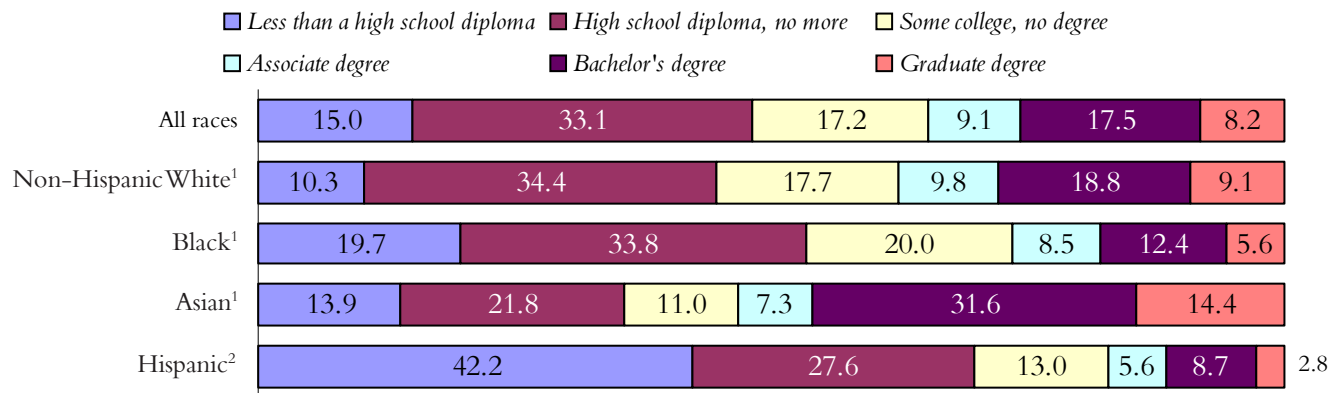

Figure 2-1 • Educational attainment of women age 25 and over by race and Hispanic origin, 2003 (percent distributions)

The educational edge that Asian women have over women in the other groups shown here is easy to see in this figure. For example, about one in seven (14.4 percent) Asian women has a graduate degree, compared with roughly one in 11 (9.1 percent) non-Hispanic white women and only about one in 35 (2.8 percent) Hispanic women.

¹Alone or in combination with other races.

²People of Hispanic origin may be of any race.

Source: Census Bureau, Educational Attainment in the United States: 2003, detailed tables, Table 10.

Figure prepared by the Women's Research and Education Institute (WREI), 2005.